POLITICIANS LINING UP FOR FALL CAMPAIGN

Three Leading Parties Preparing for Hard Fight --Rumored That Roosevelt Will Visit the County

HARMONY IN THE REPUBLICAN RANKS

County politicians are engaged in work of readjustment following the primaries preparatory to beginning their active campaign preceding the general election of November 4. With three leading parties in the field and strong candidates on all, there is bound to be one of the prettiest three-cornered scraps that has started the county in years. Adding to the general interest comes the information that Col. Theodore Roosevelt may be induced to visit Washington county in the interests of the Washington party ticket. That the Washington party is going to make the hardest fight it is capable of is sure. The Republican party leaders are at the present time lying low, but they are making plans and when they begin their activity they will show their strength. The Democratic party has some good nominees and with a sentiment aroused by the general good vote polled last year at the general election are confident of landing something.

The hottest fights will occur for county controller and for recorder of deeds. The Washington party will have the hardest man to beat on their ticket in the present county controller, John H. Moffitt. T. J. Underwood, of California is the candidate who will be backed by the Republicans. J. Winfield Reed, of Washington, a Democrat who is very strong over the county will make a hard fight for the place.

For recorder of deeds the fight will be between the Republican candidate, J. C. Sutherland, who is at present the county recorder and Joseph W. Martin. Alex D. Young is the Washington party candidate. Young's presence in the three cornered war will serve to merely complicate matters. Both Sutherland and Martin are strong candidates and both have been doing some campaigning.

Harmony reigns within the Republican ranks. Voters over the county who have been watching affairs are well pleased with the new corps of officers recently elected. The floating vote is going to count much at the coming election and the Republican ticket will catch many of these through their new organization.

The coming to Washington county of Roosevelt—if the Colonel does really decide to come—will much complicate matters. His personality alone would win many votes that otherwise would go to the Republican or the Democrat party.

Probably before the election meetings will be held at various points throughout the county by the three leading parties. It is a known fact that the Washington party has arranged to hold meetings and it is believed that the Republican leaders will arrange meetings.

To Observe Year 5674

Jewish New Year Day Services Planned--Sacred Festival to Hebrews

Solemn services are to mark the celebration of the Hebrew New Year which falls on October 1, the advent of the Jewish year 5674. Members of the Jewish faith attend services in a synagogue or temple and most places of business conducted by Jews are closed on that day.

Rosh Haahanah, or New Year's day, marking the beginning of the lunar, or Jewish year, falls this year on the evening of Wednesday October 1. The occasion is observed as a solemn and sacred festival of the Jewish church from sunset on October 1 to sunset on October 2.

Claims Cop Shot at Him

Finleyville Man Pushes Case But Fails to Substantiate Statements

Edward Taylor, a Finleyville policeman, was discharged at his hearing Tuesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Carmichael at Washington on a charge of assault and battery and pointing fire arms that had been made against him by William Fletcher, also of Finleyville.

The trouble occurred nearly two weeks ago at Finleyville. Just as Fletcher and a friend were leaving a train several shots were fired and Fletcher says Taylor accused them of shooting. More trouble followed and it was alleged the officer shot at Fletcher and hit him over the head with a "billy."

PICKPOCKETS STILL BUSY IN THIS VALLEY

Theives Continue to Ply Trade and Make Rich Hauls---Street Cars Favorite Working Places--Robberies Reported

Pickpockets are understood to be plying their trade along the Monongahela valley, chiefly on trolley cars, in spite of the publicity that has been given to their operations. Their method of operaton is to board a crowded street car and brush against their selected victim, at the same time deftly removing the victim's pocketbook. Sometimes they even go to the extreme of slitting the pocket. Workingmen who have just received their pay and who are just returning home from work in the mills are good harvests.

Charles Pritchard, a vice president of a miners organization in the valley lost $9 and Robert Hunter, a glass cutter of New Eagle lost $10 to pickpockets last Saturday on a crowded car.

WILL PAY HOMAGE TO HUMPHRIES

California, Roscoe and Charleroi Fans to See Idol Pitch

TO GIVE HIM PRESENT

Baseball fans from the Monongahela valley will pay homage to Bert Humphires, pitcher for the Chicago Cubs, at Pittsburg tomorrow. A special car will be run from Roscoe straight to Forbes Field. Manager Evers has promised he will pitch Humphries, but before the husky California lad goes in the box, he will be tendered a reception and given a present by the up river delegation.

Arrangements have been made to have the special car leave Roscoe at 10:30 in the morning. It will stop at Charleroi at 11. Street car tickets and baseball tickets have been placed on sale at Swickey's pool room. The return trip will be made leaving Pittsburg at 11 o'clock at night.

Humpries' home is in California but he pitched in Charleroi in his minor league days. He was the most successful pitcher the town ever had, and his friends are numerous.

SUCCESSFUF YEAR FOR REV. CAMERON

So successful and satisfactory has been the work of Rev. Henry N. Cameron, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Washington, during the past year, the congregation passed a resolution Monday evening upon the occasion of the quarterly conference urging District Superintendent James H. Miller, to use his every influence to have the pastor returned. Rev. Cameron was formerly pastor of the church at California and is well known throughout this section.

AUTO CLUB ASKS GOOD HIGHWAYS

Good Roads Matters Are Taken up by Monongahela Organization

STATE REPORTS HEARD

Fifty members of the Monongahela Automobile association were in attendance at the meeting held in the Allen real estate office at that place Tuesday evening, at which time the matter of good roads in the vicinity of Monongahela was up for discussion. Assurance was given of immediate work on the New Eagle road and encouragement that the spring would see work well under way for the roads between Crookham stop and Finleyville as well as between Monongahela and Charleroi.

President of Councils William P. Stephens and several members of council were in attendance and took an interest in what was being done.

Frank R. Colvin who was one of a committee which went to Harrisburg last week to confer with Governor Tener and Commissioner Bigelow, told of the co-operation of these officials with the movements in ths vicinity and stated that they assured him that the New Eagle road would be put under way immediately. He also spoke of the advantages of the $50,000,000 bond issue.

A committee was appointed to confer with J. H. Weeks, chairman of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation relative to the state plans for the campaign for good roads. The Monongahela association contemplates affiliating itself with the American Automobile Association.

TO ENDORSE AMENDMENT PROVIDING GOOD ROADS

County Seat Board of Trade Hears Good Address on Roads and the Split Log Road Drag

ENDORSEMENT AT THE NEXT MEETING

At a spirited meeting of the Washington board of tradeTuesday evening, the regular routine of business was dispensed with and the meeting resolved itself into a good roads meeting. James P. Eagleson, Esq., chairman of the county good roads committee which was appointed by the Pennsylvania Automobile association addressed the board, dealing chiefly on the $50,000,000 bond issue amendment and the King split log road drag.

His address was most enlightening and he told many interesting facts concerning the proposed bond issue. He stated that the automobile clubs could create much strength for this movement and urged all motor enthusiasts to boost for the legislation. He closed by presenting a resolution endorsing the $50,000,000 issue of bonds for road improvements and the King split log drag as the proper steps in the progress toward good roads. After considerable discussion this resolution was held over and will be voted upon at the October meeting which will also be a good road meeting.

The cause of good roads in the county is being given much impetus this month and before election day when the bond issue amendment will be voted upon, every voter in the county is expected to have a clear idea on the matter of good roads and the various points connected with the amendment. To this end good roads meetings will be held in Washington and Monongahela on September 29 and 30 respectively and perhaps others of a like character bay be held.

ROUNDHEADS MEET TODAY AT DONORA

Donora is the scene of a very remarkable affair today, in the annual reunion of the One Hundredth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry or as they are familiarly called the Roundheads.

Early this morning the guests started to arrive and throughout the morning little groups of the veterans could be seen here and there recalling the days of the '60s when they were in their country's service. A registration of the veterans showed a good attendance before noon and more than a good majority of them were expected this afternoon.

The reunion plans have been in charge of a committee of the Chamber of Commerce and nothing has been left undone to make the visit of the veterans to Donora a pleasant one.

A parade will be held this afternoon of the surviving soldiers and this evening a campfire will be held at the Grand theatre at which time among other speakers will be Erasmus Wilson, the Quiet Observer of the Pitsburg Gazette-Times. Other good speakers will also be in attendance.

FEEHAN APPOINTED ON NEW BUREAU

Commissioner of Labor and Industry John Price Jackson on Tuesday appointed A. R. Houck of Lebanon, as chief of the bureau of statistics of the new department, and Francis Feehan of Castle Shannon, Allegheny county, as supervising inspector for the Western Pennsylvania district. The two appointments will take effect immediately.

CHILDREN WARDS OF COUNTY SING FOR PRISONERS

One of the most remarkable and pathetic incidents of the prosaic life at the Washington county jail was a song service Tuesday by eleven little tots from the county home at Arden. The youthful carollers participated in the regular devotional exercises in the prison and later they visited the various corridors where they raised their little voices in joyful refrain until the very walls of the grim structure of stone and steel echoed with the inspiring rythm of many famous old hymns.

The party of children under several of the matrons from the home visited the jail and were just in time to assist in the song service. As soon as their voices were heard a deathlike stillness followed and the 97 prisoners in the county's bastile listened with the rapt attention. The impression made by the long forgotten hymns was plainly visible from the occasional trickling tears which wandered down the hardened and heavily lined faces of the prisoners, only to be hastily brushed away, with an embarrassed look about to see if the other fellows had seen them. The invasion of the jail by the county's little wards proved very successful and it may be repeated.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY HELD FOR ROSCOE MAN

A birthday surprise was held at Roscoe Monday night for B. Jobes. There were 15 couples in attendance and a pleasant evening was spent in games and music. At the conclusion a sumptuous lunch was served. Among those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jobes and children of Charleroi.

REPENTING AT LEISURE

At Washington one Thomas Edwards Evans, well on in years and reputed to be possessed of considerable means, pleaded guilty to bigamy. He was sentenced to six months in jail, which would appear that his crime is not considered especially repugnant in that county. A charge of perjury growing out of the affidavit Evans made in applying for a license was dropped. The court annulled the defendant's second marriage, which was to Miss Amy Margaret Amos, a young woman, and celebrated August 19, just a little more than a month ago.

The feature of this crude romance lay in the fact that Evans, who hails from South Dakota won the Amos girl's consent to marriage after a few days' acquaintance, says the Pittsburg Gazette Times. Having claimed to have money he was considered a catch. The case obtained wide publicity on account of its novelty, and the first wife exposed the man. Arrest and punishment followed, and the second wife has repentance at leisure for her portion.

It is past finding out why women, though they be of immature years, will rush into matrimony under such uncertain conditions. The saying that marriage is a lottery is not a joke but a solemn truth. The fact that many marriages turn out happily simply sustains the further truth that in all lotteries there are prizes some capital, others in proportion, and then there are many disappointments and blanks. In order to get a prize out of this lottery experience and history are on the side of an extended acquaintance and a thorough inquiry into the antecedents, past and present of the party of the second part and his (or her) family. Even this plan does not eliminate all chance of falure, but it is the best that men and women can do, while to marry in haste and particularly at first sight, is to invite dsaster.

It were a thousand times better for any women to live alone and perhaps unloved throughout a long lifetime, than to become involved in a travesty and a scandal like this one in Washington county. Yet such occurrences, less the prompt overtaking of the "hero" by a sentence for bigamy, are recorded in the papers right along. The reluctance of good young men to enter matrimony tends to create an oversupply of young women willing to take extraordinary risks with their future. This condition provides unusual opportunities for adventures of the Evans type and worse to prey upon the weakness and gullibility of misguided maidens, widows, etc.

MUST BUILD GOOD ROADS:

Representing practically every phase of intelligence and progress, good roads boosters took an enthusiastic part in the proceedings of the Motor Federation and the Good Roads association, says an exchange. It would be a sin if narrowness or purblind ignorance should prove an obstacle to the proposed issue of bonds for the construction of state highways.

Mr. Justice Elkin of the supreme court, in his notable address performed a service when he demolished the misleading statements to the effect that the bond issues would entail additional expense to the farmer. Farms, and other real estate will not be called upon to pay a dollar of the cost of this beneficent improvement, because there can be no state tax on real estate in this state.

Even more emphasis than this has been employed should be laid upon the extraordinary terms under which the farmers especially are literally to have this loan thrust upon them. Pennsylvania has no debt; its credit is the best in the Union; the $50,000,000 in bonds can readily be issued at the lowest possible rate of interest in parcels of $5,000,000 over a period of ten years as the road work proceeds. The cost of liquidation will come out of the general revenues of the commonwealth, and the corporations will pay most of the sum.

WILL VISIT HOLY LANDS ON A TRIP OF EXPLORATION

To investigate geological formations discovered near the Garden of Gethsemane on a previous trip to the Holy Land, and to collect fresh specimens from strata said by scientists to be unique, W. E. Crane, veteran globe trotter, of 800 Walnut avenue, Edgewood, will leave Pittsburg October 1 for Palestine, by way of the British Isles and Southern Europe.

Mr. Crane, who is a civil engineer is by avocation a geologist, conchologist and a palentologist. His travels always have been scientifically planned to give him every opportunity to study natural historry, architecture and social and economic conditions of the countries over which his route lay.

This curious formation of rock near the Garden of Gethsemane was exposed when a new road was being built. Soon afterward Mr. Crane went over the road, and discovered what he thought was an entirely new cretaceous formation. Elaborate notes were taken and specimens collected. On his return from his trip he reported his discovery to scientists, who told him the formation was absolutely unknown. He expects to secure more specimens of the rock and to make a closer investigation of the conditions surrounding the deposit.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Some hunting rules" is what Goodloe H. Thomas, of the Friday Evening Call placed as a head to the following advice given editorially in a recent issue:

"Several years ago, before the discovery of Harry Thaw, slit gowns and cubic art-throbs, an amateur Nimrod could take his remrod in hand and hail the approach of the hunting season with something more than anticipations of an occasion for burying a half-peck of buckshot in the bosom of an intimate friend. The return of the hunting season in these gentle days is a signal to the humble scribe who has his press in the rear of his grandpap's grocery store to sharpen his pencil and listen to the sharp crack of the huntsman's fire arm, a howl of anguish and a yell of dismay, and write up the most recent hunting accident. Here is where the country editor gets his one conspicuous scoop over Brother Quill of the big city daily. As little as a man resembles a rabbit, he is taken daily for one of the four-footed tribe and there is no lack of something to write about when the merry cotton-tail springeth through the gold-shot leaves chased by a half-shot hunter.

"The first hunting accident of the season is reported from Clearfield county and reminds us of the fearful toll of human life that was taken last season. This special case happened merely through the chasing of a weasel, but it must be just as painful and shocking to be shoved into eternity for the sake of a weasel as for any other animal. The accident is the forerunner of many other tragedies which will occur as soon as the hunting season is open, if past experiences are any evidence of future events. Gunner's licenses are being issued by the state, but it would seem as if some common-sense rules should be issued for the protection of hunters, such as the following:

"Do not go hunting with a cross-eyed man. He means well, but he will keep you in a state of suspense when he is most innocent of wrong, and may administer a stinging rebuke when you think he is about to shoot at the scenery.

"When you find yourself in the woods with a companion who is humorously inclined and exhibits his complaint by pointing an unloaded gun in your direction, in a quiet, inoffensive manner land a hearty blow on his head that will render him unconscious and then light out for home, so that he will not know where you are when he regains consciousness.

"Do not indulge in refreshments which purport to help you discern two rabbits where there is but one. Liquor on a hunting trip has caused more than one man to come home with the faithful old hunting hound dragging at his heels and laboring under the delusion that he has bagged a rhinoceros.

"Do not brag to other members of the party about the big game you shot the last time you were in these game-deserted woods. There is a limit to human endurance and anybody's gun is likely to go off accidentally.

"Do not shoot at everything that shows white through the bushes Many a man has been bawled out by an innocent cow, and then had to pay for the cow.

"Finally don't look a gun in the muzzle and don't drag it after you when you go through the bushes and then complain when the most personal portion of your trousers is shot full of holes. In brief, exercise some of the prudence and carefulness of your every day life, and you will perhaps come home from your hunting trip in the same car with your friends, and not have to suffer the humiliating experience of being shipped by freight along with the dog, three chipmunks and a rabbit."

Grand Auction Sale of Acre Farms

At The

California Orchard Farm Plan

Friday and Saturday, September 26 and 27, 1913

Beginning Each Day at 2 O'clock P. M.

These Farms are located directly across the river from California, 1-2 mile south of Newell, 1-2 mile north from the recently acquired tract of land of the Pittsburg Steel Company, 1-2 mile west of Roscoe.

There are ten mines all moderately equipped within one mile from these Orchard Farms, employing 4,500 men, and 1,100 men employed in the mills and factories within a radius of one mile of these Farms.

There are 100 of these farms ranging in size from 1-2 acre to 2 1-4 acres that will be put up at sale on Sept. 26 and 27 to be sold to the highest bidder. The streets are all graded. Water and gas are now placed on the streets. California Orchard Farms was evidently laid out by Nature for a home settlement. It is beautiful to behold and impresses the observer with its gracefully sloping proportions and inviting sites for family dwelling places with sufficient ground for a hennery, large garden, small fruits and a cow.

Come early to these Farms on the days of September 26 and 27, pick out the Farm you desire and at 2 o'clock be ready to bid on it when it is put up for sale.

Prices

We do not have any prices placed on these Orchard Farms, but they will be sold to the highest bidder. If you bid $50 on an acre farm and the rest of the audience will let you have this farm at that price, it is yours. These 100 farms will actually be sold to the highest bidder.

Terms

20 per cent down at the time of purchase or within 30 days from the date of sale. Balance to be paid within 16 months in equal monthly installments. 6 per cent interest on all deferred payments. Discount of 2 per cent on all deferred payments if cash is paid in full within 30 days from date of sale.

Called Music Nerve Poison.

Frederick Nietzsche agreed with those who found no inspiration in music. Indeed, he regarded music as a nerve poison, and declared that some music—particularly that of Wagner and Tschaikowsy—deranged the minds of many who heard it. Tschaikowsky killed himself after completing his famous "Sixth Symphony," which, as several other have died by their own hands after playing it, has come to be known as the "suicide Symphony."

Hot Water a Curative Agent.

The action of hot water on the body is the simplest and most effective curative agent we have Pain due to neuritis, sciatica, rheumatism or injury are relieved and the first stages of a cold are so greatly relieved that the cold will not progress further. Such a bath is in no way similar to the Turkish bath. A cold bath need not be taken after a hot bath and people living in the temperate zone will be greatly benefited by a really hot bath every other day.

Selection of Food Important.

The surest way to keep and restore health is to supply the normal conditions of life, which implies a natural diet containing all the elements of nutrition in true proportion, and based on the proper selection of food for each meal. For it will not do to mix all kinds of otherwise proper food in one meal, but we must made a meal of such foods as are compatible. Otherwise we will turn our stomachs into an acid and gas factory.—The Naturopath.

Packing Food in Ferns.

In Germany the use of ferns is coming into more and more favor for packing food which is transported either short or long distances. The practice became common in England before it gained equal vogue in Germany, and the results are said to be excellent, especially in shipping fresh fruit, butter, fish and other food products which require unusual care.

"Esquire" Not Understood.

A letter addressed to John Brown, Esquire, rested comfortably in a little town of Germany in the "E" compartment of the post department waiting to be called for by Mr. Esquire. One of the guide books warns against the use of this form of address explaining how it may be mistaken for a name.

Breaking It Gently.

"I hev come to tell yez, Mrs. Malone, that yer husband met with an accident." "An' what is it, now?" wailed Mrs. Malone. "He was overcome by the heat, mum." "Overcome by the heat, was he? 'An' how did it happen?" "He fell into the furnace over at the foundry, mum."—Tit-Bits.

For the Shopping Bag.

Sew a very large safety pin in your shopping bag. Then hang by means of smaller safety pins your door key, samples of cloth, memoranda and such things. They will be handy when you open the bag and save poking down and around and about the bottom of the bag for these things.

Method in His Extravagance.

"Haven't you a handsomer chafing-dish than that?" asked the customer. "You want something even more ornamental than this?" "Yes. I want one so beautiful and expensive that my wife wouldn't think of trying to cook anything in it."

Sweeping the Sick Room.

Never sweep a sick room while the patient is in it, as the dust is exceedingly dangerous, both to the sufferer and the sweeper. Wipe the floor with a cloth wrung out in ammonia and water, or, if it has a carpet, wipe that in the same manner.

Uncle Eben.

"Dar is times," said Uncle Eben, "dat de bossiest men has to leave things to other people. De surest way to git yoh face cut is to jump up unexpected to give instructions to de barber dat's sharin' you."

Too Much.

"I understand your star has a great deal of temperament." "A great deal! Great Scott, man, you can't put a thermometer near her without its dancing ragtime between boiling point to zero."—Exchange.

Even.

Gunman—"Ha! ha! I fooled ye all right. This here gun ain't loaded." "Don't mention it, old top. That roll I gave you is stage money."—Life.

Medicine a Poor Profession.

Despite the fact that some of them manage to get enormous fees, it is said that the doctors, as a class, get poorer and poorer, financially, every year.

Getting Rid of Boll Weevil.

The odor of the fir tree disgusts the cotton boll weevil. The southern cotton fields are cleared of the pests by planting these trees about them.

Impolite.

Young Woman—That stupid fellow has been following me for a half hour without even speaking. I wonder where he learned politeness!

Need Care of Home.

A Philadelphia physician who enjoys a handsome practice and excellent hospital connections told me an interesting although terrible thing. About 99 per cent. out of every 100 babies that are sent to hospitals for bringing up die. The death rate among such unfortunates is seven times as great as with infants who have the immediate care of mothers. Truly there is something needed in a child's life besides food, shelter and clothing.—Philadelphia Record.

Compressed Sponges.

A compressed sponge is a bit of toilette daintiness intended specially for travelers, though it appeals as well to the stay-at-home who is an ultra-hygienist. The sponge is of compressed absorbent cotton about the size of a twenty-five cent piece, and half an inch in thickness. Dropped into water it becomes saturated and expands to the size of a small face cloth, large enough to wipe the face free from dust and grime.

Squeaky Boots.

Often when one has purchased a pair of boots, one doesn't know till they are home that they creak. However, the disagreeable noise may be stopped by taking them back to the shoemaker and asking him to spring them on each side and insert between the soles a teaspoonful of French chalk. This process costs only a trifle and answers admirably.

Quick Mustard Plaster.

A trained nurse says that if one forgets the exact proportion for making a mustard plaster one can be quickly made by cutting a thick slice of bread, dipping it for just a second in hot water, then spreading with white of egg, and sprinkling thickly with mustard. The egg will prevent blistering.

White Wood Work.

Inside painted woodwork can be made to look like new by rubbing it well with a rag dipped in whiting. After the whiting dries it should be thoroughly removed with a soft cloth. The paint is not injured, as it usually is by the application of soap and water, and the process is easy.

Lucky in Love.

The optimist had lost heavily. "Oh, well!" he remarked, as he rose from the gaming table, "unlucky at cards, lucky at love." "Is that true in your case?" sneered the pessimist. "Sure," replied the optimist. "At any rate, I have never been married."—Philadelphia Record.

Sadly Sordid.

"I suppose you agree that reform is necessary?" "Oh, yes," replied the political boss. "Reformers introduce a whole lot of legislation that is important to us practical guys because of the amount some people are willing to pay for the privilege of evading it."

The Home Sentinel.

It is each woman's duty to understand the preparation of food so that it may be fit for human consumption. It may not be necessary for her to attend to the actual work, but she should be the sentinel, always on guard.

Keeping Mind in Condition.

No mind is first class that is not continually reading books and conversing with men that require an effort to be understood. The novel-soaked intellect, gormandizing upon easy reading, grows flabby.

Of the "Bacchae" of Euripides.

A thing never to be done again, scarcely to be understood, recognized as the last witness to a beauty of which the secret was lost and the ancient mold broken.—Gilbert Murray.

Munchausen, Jr.

'Arold—"Who giv' yer yer black eye, Jimmie?" Jimmie—"No one. I was lookin' thro' a knot-hole in the fence at a football match, an' got it sunburnt."—London Sketch.

Daily Thought.

True love is better than glory, and a tranquil fireplace, with the woman of your heart seated by it, the greatest good the gods can send us.—Thackeray.

And Employs Them All.

Clubleigh—"My wife never says 'boo' when I get home after midnight." Tippleton—"Neither does mine; she has hundreds of words more effective than that."

The Chance.

The man who complains that he has not succeeded because he has never had a chance expects somebody else to furnish the chance.

On the Toboggan.

No man ever discovers his true powers of locomotion until he starts on the moral and financial down grade.—Puck.

Water and Ore Mixed.

Nearly fifty tons of water were lifted from the mines of South Staffordshire, England, last year for every ton of mineral.

Decay of Glass.

Few persons who admire the iridescence of ancient glassware know that the prismatic hues displayed are a result of the decay of the glass. When disintegration sets in, the substance of the glass splits into exceedingly thin laminae, which, as the sunlight traverses them, give rise to a splendid play of colors. Like the leaves of a forest, these delicate glasses signalize their approaching dissolution by becoming more beautiful.—Harper's Weekly.

Thackeray's Tribute to Woman.

If a man is in grief, who cheers him? In trouble, who consoles him? In wrath, who soothes him? In joy, who makes him doubly happy? In prosperity, who rejoices? In disgrace, who backs him against the world and dresses with gentle urgents and warm poultices the rankling wounds by the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune? Who, but a woman, if you please!—William Makepeace Thackeray.

Turkish Postage Stamps.

Because of a passage in the Koran forbidding the making of images, Turkish postage stamps have no picture, but bear instead the sign manual of the sultan, which is, in fact, an impression of his imperial hand. This signature is said to have had its origin with the Sultan Murad I., who, on completing a treaty with the Italian republic of Ragusa in 1365, and being unable to sign his name, applied ink to his open hand and slapped it upon the parchment.

Portrait of Franklin Sold.

A portrait of Benjamin Franklin, painted by Mason Chamberlain in 1762, during Franklin's first mission to England, was sold in London the other day for 2800 guineas. The picture, after passing out of the possession of the Franklin family, belonged to Joshua Bates, of London, and it was while the picture was in his hands that the only copy of it was taken—a copy by Leslie, which Bates presented to Harvard College

Climate Failed; Medicine Effective

It has been absolutely shown that rest, fresh air and good food do help many persons suffering from Tuberculosis. But it must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed.

Eckman's Alterative is a medicine made for the treatment of Tuberculosis. It has conquered this disease again and again. Often these benefits have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal—yet recoveries resulted. Now we argue that Eckman's Alterative should be used in every case of Tuberculosis, in addition to good, nourishing food and fresh air, which we all need. A remarkable case follows: Weldon, Ill.

"Gentlemen: Through Eckman's Alterative I have been saved from a premature grave. On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected; my sputum was examined and Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. On February 21, 1905, I was advised to go to Fort Worth, Texas. While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse, and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas, June 21 and arrived in Canon City, June 3 very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

"On July 14, 1905, I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Consumption. Today I weigh 138 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator. I have not an ache nor pain in my lungs, eat well, sleep well, and never felt better."

(Sworn affidavit) ARTHUR WEBB.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

GOOD SOCCER TEAM FOR MONONGAHELN

That Monongahela will have a team in the Pittsburg Press Soccer league is now an assured fact, as a result of a meeting that was held at the Hotel Abbot Monday night. Many exponents of the game were in attendance and evinced a desire to enter the league. Definite steps were taken by naming Thomas Smith as captain and Thomas Clark as manager. The latter is the well known manager of the Monongahela Independent baseball team which has had such a phenomenal record this summer.

Many of the stars of the old Gallatin and Monongahela team will be found in the lineup. Alexander L. McVicker, district engineer for the Pittsburg Coal company and one of the fastest soccer men the game has known, has a "find" which he sprung at the meeting. There is a typical young Scot who came to this country a few months ago who wants a place on the new team. He was a member of the second all star team of Scotland and played several games with the first all star team. He will be found in the lineup. The other teams in the league are Donora, Dunlevy, Roscoe, Corry, Elizabeth and Pricedale.

MONONGAHELA AND CHARLEROI TO CLASH

Arrangements have been made for a post season baseball game between the Monongahela and Charleroi teams. The game will be played here probably next Saturday. The Charleroi team will have either McIlvaine or Osborne in the box while Monongahela will depend upon Westerwick. Last Saturday McDonald played at Monongahela and the game was a twelve inning draw, neither team being able to score. At that time Westerwick allowed but seven hits and struck out 16 batsmen. Monongahela has one game the lead on the local team for the season and Manager Mathers and his outfit expect to hang one on their ancient rivals.

Will Hold First Meeting.

The Ladies Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal church will hold its first meeting of the fall tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Sunday school room of the church. This will be a busines meeting and the members are urging a large attendance.

FILES REPORT IN TELEPHONE CASE IN COURT

At Washington A. R. Witherspoon has filed his report as master in the case of the Washington Trust company against the National Telephone company of Pennsylvania and others. The master finds that the Washington Trust company as trustee sold to S. P. Norton as trustee all the appurtenances of the telephone company for $50,000.

The master allows state taxes due to Pennsylvania to the amount of $2,068.43 and accounts payable under the administration of Receiver J. G. Splane to the amount of $1,996.25. The costs before the master amounted to $385.05 and the expense of sale by trustee to $833.80. Of the $50,000 original for distribution there remains $40,493.33 for distribution. On each $1,000 bond there will be distributed $202.17 and on each $500 bond $101.23.

Coquette Condemned.

The life of a coquette is very like that of a drunkard or an opium eater and its end is the same—the total extinction of intellect, of cheerfulness, of generous feeling and of self-respect. —Mrs. Jameson.

Tea Known in England Since 1615.

The earliest mention of tea drinking in England occurs in a letter from Mr. Wickham from Japan, dated June 27, 1615. In 1656 the English began to drink tea in society circles, the supply being imported from Java at the cost of $30 to $50 a pound. It is quite needless to say that the common people did not drink much tea during those days.

Unappreciated Ardor.

"Darling!" he cried, passionately, throwing himself upon his knees before her and rolling up his eyes toward the chandelier, "darling, can you not see, can you not guess that I love you?" "Well," she replied, coolly, gazing at the disheveled youth on the rug, "I'd hate to think that this was just your natural way of behaving in company."

Ancient Irish "Keen."

The most interesting as well as the oldest and still most cherished customs are those that have gathered round deaths and funerals. The caoine or "keen," so often mentioned by Irish writers, is now to be met with only in the west, where the soft plaintive voices seem to lend themselves peculiarly to it.

POLITICIANS LINING UP FOR FALL CAMPAIGN

Three Leading Parties Preparing for Hard Fight --Rumored That Roosevelt Will Visit the County

HARMONY IN THE REPUBLICAN RANKS

County politicians are engaged in work of readjustment following the primaries preparatory to beginning their active campaign preceding the general election of November 4 With three leading parties in the field and strong candidates on all, there is bound to be one of the prettiest three-cornered scraps that has started the county in years. Adding to the general interest comes the information that Col Theodore Roosevelt may be induced to visit Washington county in the interests of the Washington party ticket. That the Washington party is going to make the hardest fight it is capable of is sure. The Republican party leaders are at the present time lying low, but they are making plans and when they begin their activity they will show their strength. The Democratic party has some good nominees and with a sentiment aroused by the general good vote polled last year at the general election are confident of landing something.

The hottest fights will occur for county controller and for recorder of deeds The Washington party will have the hardest man to beat on their ticket in the present county controller. John H. Moffitt. T. J. Underwood of California is the candidate who will be backed by the Republicans J. Winfield Reed, of Washington, a Democrat who is very strong over the county will make a hard fight for the place.

For recorder of deeds the fight will be between the Republican candidate, J. C. Sutherland who is at present the county recorder and Joseph W. Martin. Alex D. Young is the Washington party candidate. Young's presence in the three cornered war will serve to merely complicate matters. Both Sutherland and Martin are strong candidates and both have been doing some campaigning.

Harmony reigns within the Republican ranks. Voters over the county who have been watching affairs are well pleased with the new corps of officers recently elected. The floating vote is going to count much at the coming election and the Republican ticket will catch many of these through their new organization.

The coming to Washington county of Roosevelt—if the Colonel does really decide to come—will much complicate matters. His personality alone would win many votes that otherwise would go to the Republican or the Democrat party.

Probably before the election meetings will be held at various points throughout the county by the three leading parties. It is a known fact that the Washington party has arranged to hold meetings and it is believed that the Republican leaders will arrange meetings

Theives Continue to Ply Trade and Make Rich Hauls---Street Cars Favorite Working Places--Robberies Reported

Pickpockets are understood to be plying their trade along the Monongahela valley, chiefly on trolley cars, in spite of the publicity that has been given to their operations. Their method of operaton is to board a crowded street car and brush against their selected victim, at the same time deftly removing the victim's pocketbook. Sometimes they even go to the extreme of slitting the pocket. Workingmen who have just received their pay and who are just returning home from work in the mills are good harvests.

Charles Pritchard, a vice president of a miners organization in the valley lost $9 and Robert Hunter, a glass cutter of New Eagle lost $15 to pickpockets last Saturday on a crowded car.

TO ENDORSE AMENDMENT PROVIDING GOOD ROADS

County Seat Board of Trade Hears Good Address on Roads and the Split Log Road Drag

ENDORSEMENT AT THE NEXT MEETING

At a spirited meeting of the Washington board of tradeTuesday evening, the regular routine of business was dispensed with and the [illegible] resolved itself into a good roads meeting. James P. Englesch, Esq., chairman of the county good roads committee which was appointed by the Pennsylvania Automobile association addressed the board, dealing chiefly on the $50,000,000 bond issue amendment and the [illegible] road drag.

His address was most entertaining and he told many interesting facts concerning the proposed bond issue. He stated that the automobile clubs could create much strength for the movement and urged all motor enthusiasts to boost for the legislation. He closed by presenting a resolution endorsing the $50,000,000 issue of bonds for road improvements and the King split log drag as the proper steps in the progress toward good roads.

This resolution was held over and will be voted upon at the October meeting which will also be a good roads meeting.

The cause of good roads in the county is being given much impetus at present and before election day the bond issue amendment will be voted upon every voter in the county is expected to have a clear idea on the matter of good roads and the various points connected with the amendment. To this end good roads meetings will be held in Washington and Monongahela on September 29 and 30 respectively and perhaps others of a like character may be held.

WILL PAY HOMAGE TO HUMPHRIES

California, Roscoe and Charleroi Fans to See Idol Pitch

TO GIVE HIM PRESENT

Baseball fans from the Monongahela valley will pay homage to Bert Humphries, pitcher for the Chicago Cubs, at Pittsburg tomorrow. A special car will be run from Roscoe straight to Forbes Field. Manager Evers has promised he will pitch Humphries, but before the husky California lad goes in the box, he will be tendered a reception and given a present by the up river delegation.

Arrangements have been made to have the special car leave Roscoe at 10:30 in the morning. It will stop at Charleroi at 11. Street car tickets and baseball tickets have been placed on sale at Swickey's pool room. The return trip will be made leaving Pittsburg at 11 o'clock at night.

Humpries' home is in California but he pitched in Charleroi in his minor league days. He was the most successful pitcher the town ever had, and his friends are numerous.

AUTO CLUB ASKS GOOD HIGHWAYS

Good Roads Matters Are Taken up by Monongahela Organization

STATE REPORTS HEARD

Fifty members of the Monongahela Automobile association were in attendance at the meeting held in the Allen real estate office at that place Tuesday evening, at which time the matter of good roads in the vicinity of Monongahela was up for discussion. Assurance was given of immediate work on the New Eagle road and encouragement that the spring would see work well under way for the roads between Crookham stop and Finleyville as well as between Monongahela and Charleroi.

President of Councils William P. Stephens and several members of council were in attendance and took an interest in what was being done.

Frank R. Colvin who was one of a committee which went to Harrisburg last week to confer with Governor Tener and Commissioner Bigelow told of the co-operation of these officials with the movements in this vicinity and stated that they assured him that the New Eagle road would be put under way immediately. He also spoke of the advantages of the $50,000,000 bond issue.

A committee was appointed to confer with J. H. Weeks, chairman of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation relative to the state plans for the campaign for good roads. The Monongahela association contemplates affiliating itself with the American Automobile Association.

ROUNDHEADS MEET TODAY AT DONORA

Donora is the scene of a very remarkable affair today, it being a final reunion of the One Hundredth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry or as they are familiarly called the Roundheads.

Early this morning the guests started to arrive and throughout the morning little groups of the veterans could be seen here and there recalling the days of the '60s when they were in their country's service. A registration of the veterans showed a good attendance before noon and more than a good majority of them were expected this afternoon.

The reunion plans have been in charge of a committee of the Chamber of Commerce and nothing has been left undone to make the visit of the veterans to Donora a pleasant one.

A parade will be held this afternoon of the surviving soldiers and this evening a campfire will be held at the Grand theatre at which time among other speakers will be Erasmus Wilson, the Quiet Observer of the Pitsburg Gazette-Times. Other good speakers will also be in attendance.

CHILDREN WARDS OF COUNTY SING FOR PRISONERS

One of the most remarkable and patheuc incidents of the prosaic life at the Washington county jail was a song service Tuesday by eleven little tots from the county home at Arden. The youthful carollers participated in the regular devotional exercises in the prison and later they visited the various corridors where they raised their little voices in joyful refrain until the very walls of the grim structure of stone and steel echoed with the inspiring rythm of many famous old hymns.

The party of children under several of the matrons from the home visited the jail and were just in time to assist in the song service. As soon as their voices were heard a deathlike stillness followed and the 97 prisoners in the county's bastile listened with the rapt attention. The impression made by the long forgotten hymns was plainly visible from the occasional tricking tears which wandered down the hardened and heavily lined faces of the prisoners, only to be hastily brushed away, with an embarrassed look about to see if the other fellows had seen them. The invasion of the jail by the county's little wards proved very successful and it may be repeated.

To Observe Year 5674

Jewish New Year Day Services Planned--Sacred Festival to Hebrews

Solemn services are to mark the celebration of the Hebrew New Year which falls on October 1, the advent of the Jewish year 5674. Members of the Jewish faith attend services in a synagogue or temple and most places of business conducted by Jews are closed on that day.

Rosh Haahanah, or New Year's day, marking the beginning of the lunar, or Jewish year, falls this year on the evening of Wednesday October 1. The occasion is observed as a solemn and sacred festival of the Jewish church from sunset on October 1 to sunset on October 2.

Claims Cop Shot at Him

Finleyville Man Pushes Case But Fails to Substantiate Statements

Edward Taylor, a Finleyville policeman, was discharged at his hearing Tuesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Carmichael at Washington on a charge of assault and battery and pointing fire arms that had been made against him by William Fletcher, also of Finleyville.

The trouble occurred nearly two weeks ago at Finleyville Just as Fletcher and a friend were leaving a train several shots were fired and Fletcher says Taylor accused them of shooting. More trouble followed and it was alleged the officer shot at Fletcher and hit him over the head with a "billy."

SUCCESSFUF YEAR FOR REV. CAMERON

So successful and satisfactory has been the work of Rev. Henry N. Cameron, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Washington, during the past year, the congregation passed a resolution Monday evening upon the occasion of the quarterly conference urging District Superintendent James H. Miller, to use his every influence to have the pastor returned. Rev. Cameron was formerly pastor of the church at California and is well known throughout this section.

REPENTING AT LEISURE

At Washington one Thomas Edwards Evans, well on in years and reputed to be possessed of considerable means, pleaded guilty to bigamy. He was sentenced to six months in jail, which would appear that his crime is not considered especially repugnant in that county. A charge of perjury growing out of the affidavit Evans made in applying for a license was dropped. The court annulled the defendant's second marriage, which was to Miss Amy Margaret Amos a young woman, and celebrated August 19, just a little more than a month ago.

The feature of this crude romance lay in the fact that Evans, who hails from South Dakota won the Amos girl's consent to marriage after a few days' acquaintance, says the Pittsburg Gazette Times. Having claimed to have money he was considered a catch. The case obtained wide publicity on account of its novelty, and the first wife exposed the man. Arrest and punishment followed, and the second wife has repentance at leisure for her portion.

It is past finding out why women, though they be of immature years, will rush into matrimony under such uncertain conditions. The saying that marriage is a lottery is not a joke but a solemn truth. The fact that many marriages turn out happily simply sustains the further truth that in all lotteries there are prizes some capital, others in proportion, and then there are many disappointments and blanks. In order to get a prize out of this lottery experience and history are on the side of an extended acquaintance and a thorough inquiry into the antecedents, past and present of the party of the second part and his (or her) family. Even this plan does not eliminate all chance of falure, but it is the best that men and women can do, while to marry in haste and particularly at first sight, is to invite disaster.

It were a thousand times better for any women to live alone and perhaps unloved throughout a long lifetime, than to become involved in a travesty and a scandal like this one in Washington county. Yet such occurrences, like the prompt overtaking of the "hero" by a sentence for bigamy, are recorded in the papers right along. The reluctance of good young men to enter matrimony tends to create an oversupply of young women willing to take extraordinary risks with their future. This condition provides unusual opportunities for adventures of the Evans type and worse to prey upon the weakness and gullibility of misguided maidens, widows, etc

MUST BUILD GOOD ROADS:

Representing practically every phase of intelligence and progress, good roads boosters took an enthusiastic part in the proceedings of the Motor Federation and the Good Roads Association, says an exchange it would be a sin if narrowness or purblind ignorance should prove an obstacle to the proposed issue of bonds for the construction of state highways.

Mr. Justice Elkin of the supreme court, in his notable address performed a service when he demolished the misleading statements to the effect that the bond issues would entail additional expense to the farmer. Farms, and other real estate will not be called upon to pay a dollar of the cost of this beneficent improvement, because there can be no state tax on [illegible] this year.

Even more emphasis than this has been employed should be laid upon the extraordinary terms under which the farmers especially are literally to have this boon thrust upon them. Pennsylvania has no debt; its credit is the best in the Union; the $50,000,000 in bonds can readily be issued at the lowest possible rate of interest in parcels of $5,000,000 over a period of ten years as the road work proceeds The cost of liquidation will come out of the general revenues of the commonwealth, and the corporations will pay most of the sum.

WILL VISIT HOLY LANDS ON A TRIP OF EXPLORATION

To investigate geological formations discovered near the Garden of Gethsemane on a previous trip to the Holy Land, and to collect fresh specimens from strata said by scientists to be unique, W. E. Crane, veteran globe trotter, of 800 Walnut avenue, Edgewood, will leave Pittsburg October 1 for Palestine, by way of the British Isles and Southern Europe.

Mr. Crane, who is a civil engineer is by avocation a geologist, conchologist and a palentologist. His travels always have been scientifically planned to give him every opportunity to study natural history, architecture and social and economic conditions of the countries over which his route lay.

This curious formation of rock near the Garden of Gethsemane was exposed when a new road was being built Soon afterward Mr Crane went over the road, and discovered what he thought was an entirely new cretaceous formation. Elaborate notes were taken and specimens collected On his return from his trip he reported his discovery to scientists who told him the formation was absolutely unknown He expects to secure more specimens of the rock and to make a closer investigation of the conditions surrounding the deposit.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Some hunting rules" is what Goodloe H. Thomas, of the Friday Evening Call placed as a head to the following advice given editorially in a recent issue:

Several years ago, before the discovery of Harry Thaw, slit gowns and cubic art-throbs, an amateur Nimrod could take his rimrod in hand and hail the approach of the hunting season with something more than anticipations of an occasion for buying a half-peck of buckshot in the bosom of an intimate friend. The return of the hunting season in these gentle days is a signal to the humble scribe who hashispress in the rear of his grandpop's grocery store to sharpen his pencil and listen to the sharp crack of the huntsman's fire arm, a howl of anguish and a yell of dismay, and write up the most recent hunting accident. Here is where the country editor gets his one conspicuous scoop over Brother Quill of the big city daily. As little as a man resembles a rabbit, he is taken daily for one of the four-footed tribe and there is no lack of competition to [illegible] when the merry cotton-tail springeth through the gold-shot leaves chased by a half-shot hunter.

"The first hunting accident of the season is reported from Clearfield county and reminds us of the fearful toll of human life that was taken last season. This special case happened merely through the chasing of a weasel, but it must be just as painful and shocking to be shoved into eternity for the sake of a weasel as for any other animal. The accident is the forerunner of many other tragedies which will occur as soon as the hunting season is open, if past experience are any evidence of future events Gunner's licenses are being issued by the state, but it would seem as if some common-sense rules should be issued for the protection of hunters, such as the following:

"Do not go hunting with a cross-eyed man He means well, but he will keep you in a state of suspense when he is most innocent of wrong, and may administer a stinging rebuke when you think he is about to shoot at the scenery.

"When you find yourself in the woods with a companion who is humorously inclined and exhibits his complaint by pointing an unloaded gun in your direction, in a quiet, inoffensive manner land a hearty blow on his head that will render him unconscious and then light out for home, so that he will not know where you are when he regains consciousness.

"Do not indulge in refreshments which purport to help you discern two rabbits where there is but one. Liquor on a hunting trip has caused more than one man to come home with the faithful old hunting hound dragging at his heels and laboring under the delusion that he has bagged a rhinoceros.

"Do not brag to other members of the party about the big game you shot the last time you were in these game-deserted woods. There is a limit to human endurance and anybody's gun is likely to go off accidentally.

"Do not shoot at everything that shows white through the bushes Many a man has been bawled out by an innocent cow, and then had to pay for the cow.

"Finally don't look a gun in the muzzle and don't drag it after you when you go through the bushes and then complain when the most personal portion of your trousers is shot full of holes. In brief, exercise some of the prudence and carefulness of your every day life, and you will perhaps come home from your hunting trip in the same car with your friends, and not have to suffer the humiliating experience of being shipped by freight along with the dog, three chipmunks and a rabbit."

Grand Auction Sale of Acre Farms

At The

California Orchard Farm Plan

Friday and Saturday, September 26 and 27, 1913

Beginning Each Day at 2 O'clock P. M.

These Farms are located directly across the river from California, 1-2 mile south of Newell, 1-2 mile north from the recently acquired tract of land of the Pittsburg Steel Company, 1-2 mile west of Roscoe.

There are ten mines all moderately equipped within one mile from these Orchard Farms, employing 4,500 men, and 1,100 men employed in the mills and factories within a radius of one mile of these Farms.

There are 100 of these farms ranging in size from 1-2 acre to 2 1-4 acres that will be put up at sale on Sept. 26 and 27 to be sold to the highest bidder. The streets are all graded. Water and gas are now placed on the streets. California Orchard Farms was evidently laid out by Nature for a home settlement. It is beautiful to behold and impresses the observer with its gracefully sloping proportions and inviting sites for family dwelling places with sufficient ground for a hennery, large garden, small fruits and a cow.

Come early to these Farms on the days of September 26 and 27, pick out the Farm you desire and at 2 o'clock be ready to bid on it when it is put up for sale.

Prices

We do not have any prices placed on these Orchard Farms, but they will be sold to the highest bidder. If you bid $50 on an acre farm and the rest of the audience will let you have this farm at that price, it is yours. These 100 farms will actually be sold to the highest bidder.

Terms

20 per cent down at the time of purchase or within 30 days from the date of sale. Balance to be paid within 16 months in equal monthly installments. 6 per cent interest on all deferred payments. Discount of 2 per cent on all deferred payments if cash is paid in full within 30 days from date of sale.

Called Music Nerve Poison.

Frederick Nietzsche agreed with those who found no inspiration in music. Indeed, he regarded music as a nerve poison, and declared that some music—particularly that of Wagner and Tschaikowsky—deranged the minds of many who heard it. Tschaikowsky killed himself after completing his famous "Sixth Symphony," which, as several other have died by their own hands after playing it, has come to be known as the "suicide Symphony."

Hot Water a Curative Agent.

The action of hot water on the body is the simplest and most effective curative agent we have. Pain due to neuritis, sciatica, rheumatism or injury are relieved and the first stages of a cold are so greatly relieved that the cold will not progress further. Such a bath is in no way similar to the Turkish bath. A cold bath need not be taken after a hot bath and people living in the temperate zone will be greatly benefited by a really hot bath every other day.

Selection of Food Important.

The surest way to keep and restore health is to supply the normal conditions of life, which implies a natural diet containing all the elements of nutrition in true proportion, and based on the proper selection of food for each meal. For it will not do to mix all kinds of otherwise proper food in one meal, but we must made a meal of such foods as are compatible. Otherwise we will turn our stomachs into an acid and gas factory.—The Naturopath.

Packing Food in Ferns.

In Germany the use of ferns is coming into more and more favor for packing food which is transported either short or long distances. The practice became common in England before it gained equal vogue in Germany, and the results are said to be excellent, especially in shipping fresh fruit, butter, fish and other food products which require unusual care.

"Esquire" Not Understood.

A letter addressed to John Brown, Esquire, rested comfortably in a little town of Germany in the "E" compartment of the post department waiting to be called for by Mr. Esquire. One of the guide books warns against the use of this form of address explaining how it may be mistaken for a name.

Breaking It Gently.

"I hev come to tell yez, Mrs. Malone, that yer husband met with an accident." "An' what is it, now?" wailed Mrs. Malone. "He was overcome by the heat, mum." "Overcome by the heat, was he? An' how did it happen?" "He fell into the furnace over at the foundry, mum."—Tit-Bits.

For the Shopping Bag.

Sew a very large safety pin in your shopping bag. Then hang by means of smaller safety pins your door key, samples of cloth, memoranda and such things. They will be handy when you open the bag and save poking down and around and about the bottom of the bag for these things.

Method In His Extravagance.

"Haven't you a handsomer chafing-dish than that?" asked the customer. "You want something even more ornamental than this?" "Yes. I want one so beautiful and expensive that my wife wouldn't think of trying to cook anything in it."

Sweeping the Sick Room.

Never sweep a sick room while the patient is in it, as the dust is exceedingly dangerous, both to the sufferer and the sweeper. Wipe the floor with a cloth wrung out in ammonia and water, or, if it has a carpet, wipe that in the same manner.

Uncle Eben.

"Dar is times," said Uncle Eben, "dat de bossiest men has to leave things to other people. De surest way to git yoh face cut is to jump up unexpected to give instructions to de barber dat's shavin' you."

Too Much.

"I understand your star has a great deal of temperament." "A great deal! Great Scott, man, you can't put a thermometer near her without its dancing ragtime between boiling point to zero."—Exchange.

Even.

Gunman—"Ha! ha! I fooled ye all right. This here gun ain't loaded." "Don't mention it, old top. That roll I gave you is stage money."—Life.

Medicine a Poor Profession.

Despite the fact that some of them manage to get enormous fees, it is said that the doctors, as a class, get poorer and poorer, financially, every year.

Getting Rid of Boll Weevil.

The odor of the [illegible] cotton boll weevil. The southern cotton fields are cleared of the pests by planting these trees about them.

Impolite.

Young Woman—That stupid fellow has been following me for a half hour without even speaking. I wonder where he learned politeness!

Need Care of Home.

A Philadelphia physician who enjoys a handsome practice and excellent hospital connections told me an interesting although terrible thing. About 90 per cent. out of every 100 babies that are sent to hospitals for bringing up die. The death rate among such unfortunates is seven times as great as with infants who have the immediate care of mothers. Truly there is something needed in a child's life besides food, shelter and clothing.—Philadelphia Record.

Compressed Sponges.

A compressed sponge is a bit of toilette daintiness intended specially for travelers, though it appeals as well to the stay-at-home who is an ultra-hygienist. The sponge is of compressed absorbent cotton about the size of a twenty-five cent piece, and half an inch in thickness. Dropped into water it becomes saturated and expands to the size of a small face cloth, large enough to wipe the face free from dust and grime.

Squeaky Boots.

Often when one has purchased a pair of boots, one doesn't know till they are home that they creak. However, the disagreeable noise may be stopped by taking them back to the shoemaker and asking him to spring them on each side and insert between the soles a teaspoonful of French chalk. This process costs only a trifle and answers admirably.

Quick Mustard Plaster.

A trained nurse says that if one forgets the exact proportion for making a mustard plaster one can be quickly made by cutting a thick slice of bread, dipping it for just a second in hot water, then spreading with white of egg, and sprinkling thickly with mustard. The egg will prevent blistering.

White Wood Work.

Inside painted woodwork can be made to look like new by rubbing it well with a rag dipped in whiting. After the whiting dries it should be thoroughly removed with a soft cloth. The paint is not injured, as it usually is by the application of soap and water, and the process is easy.

Lucky in Love.

The optimist had lost heartily. "Oh, well!" he remarked, as he rose from the gaming table, "unlucky at cards, lucky at love." "Is that true in your case?" sneered the pessimist. "Sure," replied the optimist. "At any rate, I have never been married."—Philadelphia Record.

Sadly Sordid.

"I suppose you agree that reform is necessary?" "Oh, yes," replied the political boss. "Reformers introduce a whole lot of legislation that is important to us practical guys because of the amount some people are willing to pay for the privilege of evading it."

The Home Sentinel.

It is each woman's duty to understand the preparation of food so that it may be fit for human consumption. It may not be necessary for her to attend to the actual work, but she should be the sentinel, always on guard.

Keeping Mind in Condition.

No mind is first class that is not continually reading books and conversing with men that require an effort to be understood. The novel-soaked intellect, gormandizing upon easy reading, grows flabby.

Of the "Bacchae" of Euripides.

A thing never to be done again, scarcely to be understood, recognized as the last witness to a beauty of which the secret was lost and the ancient mold broken.—Gilbert Murray.

Munchausen, Jr.

'Arold—"Who giv' yer yer black eye, Jimmie?" Jimmie—"No one. I was lookin' thro' a knot-hole in the fence at a football match, an' got it sunburnt."—London Sketch.

Daily Thought.

True love is better than glory, and a tranquil fireplace, with the woman of your heart seated by it, the greatest good the gods can send us.—Thackeray.

And Employs Them All.

Clubleigh—"My wife never says 'boo' when I get home after midnight." Tipleton—"Neither does mine; she has hundreds of words more effective than that."

The Chance.

The man who complains that he has not succeeded because he has never had a chance expects somebody else to furnish the chance.

On the Toboggan.

No man ever discovers his true powers of locomotion until he starts on the moral and financial downgrade.—Puck.

Water and Ore Mixed.

Nearly fifty tons of water were lifted from the mines of South Staffordshire, England, last year for every ton of mineral.

Decay of Glass.

Few persons who admire the iridescence of ancient glassware know that the prismatic hues displayed are a result of the decay of the glass. When disintegration sets in, the substance of the glass splits into exceedingly thin laminae, which, as the sunlight traverses them, give rise to a splendid play of colors. Like the leaves of a forest, these delicate glasses signalize their approaching dissolution by becoming more beautiful.—Harper's Weekly.

Thackeray's Tribute to Woman.

If a man is in grief, who cheers him? In trouble, who consoles him? In wrath, who soothes him? In joy, who makes him doubly happy? In prosperity, who rejoices? In disgrace, who backs him against the world and dresses with gentle urgents and warm poultices the rankling wounds by the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune? Who, but a woman, if you please!—William Makepeace Thackeray.

Turkish Postage Stamps.

Because of a passage in the Koran forbidding the making of images, Turkish postage stamps have no pictures but bear instead the sign manual of the sultan, which is, in fact, an impression of his imperial hand. This signature is said to have had its origin with the Sultan Murad I., who, on completing a treaty with the Italian republic of Ragusa in 1365, and being unable to sign his name, applied ink to his open hand and slapped it upon the parchment.

Portrait of Franklin Sold.

A portrait of Benjamin Franklin, painted by Mason Chamberlain in 1762, during Franklin's first mission to England, was sold in London the other day for 2800 guineas. The picture, after passing out of the possession of the Franklin family, belonged to Joshua Bates, of London, and it was while the picture was in his hands that the only copy of it was taken—a copy by Leslie, which Bates presented to Harvard College

Climate Failed; Medicine Effective

It has been absolutely shown that rest, fresh air and good food do help many persons suffering from Tuberculosis. But it must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed.

Eckman's Alterative is a medicine made for the treatment of Tuberculosis. It has conquered this disease again and again. Often these benefits have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal—yet recoveries resulted. Now we argue that Eckman's Alterative should be used in every case of Tuberculosis, in addition to good, nourishing food and fresh air, which we all need. A remarkable case follows: Weldon, Ill.

"Gentlemen: Through Eckman's Alterative I have been saved from a premature grave. On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected; my sputum was examined and Tuberculosis bacilli were found. On February 21, 1905, I was advised to go to Fort Worth, Texas. While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse, and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas, June 21 and arrived in Canon City, June 3 very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive. [illegible] Eckman's wonderful remedy for Consumption. GOOD SOCCER TEAM FOR MONONGAHELN

That Monongahela will have a team in the Pittsburg Press Soccer league is now an assured fact, as a result of a meeting that was held at the Hotel Abbot Monday night. Many exponents of the game were in attendance and evinced a desire to enter the league. Definite steps were taken by naming Thomas Smith as captain and Thomas Clark as manager. The latter is the well known manager of the Monongahela Independent baseball team which has had such a phenomenal record this summer.

Many of the stars of the old Gallatin and Monongahela team will be found in the lineup. Alexander L. McVicker, district engineer for the Pittsburg Coal company and one of the fastest soccer men the game has known, has a "find" which he sprung at the meeting. There is a typical young Scot who came to this country a few months ago who wants a place on the new team. He was a member of the second all star team of Scotland and played several games with the first all star team. He will be found in the lineup. The other teams in the league are Donora, Dunlevy, Roscoe, Corry, Elizabeth and Price dale.

MONONGAHELA AND CHARLEROI TO CLASH

Arrangements have been made for a post season baseball game between the Monongahela and Charleroi teams. The game will be played here probably next Saturday. The Charleroi team will have either McIlvaine or Osborne in the box while Monongahela will depend upon Westerwick. Last Saturday McDonald played at Monongahela and the game was a twelve inning draw, neither team being able to score. At that time Westerwick allowed but seven hits and struck out 16 batsmen. Monongahela has one game the lead on the local team for the season and Manager Mathers and his outfit expect to hang one on their ancient rivals.

Will Hold First Meeting.

The Ladies Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal church will hold its first meeting of the fall tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Sunday school room of the church. This will be a busines meeting and the members are urging a large attendancee.

FILES REPORT IN TELEPHONE CASE IN COURT

At Washington A. R. Witherspoon has filed his report as master in the case of the Washington Trust company against the National Telephone company of Pennsylvania and others. The master finds that the Washington Trust company as trustee sold to S. P. Norton as trustee all the appurtenances of the telephone company for $50,000.

The master allows state taxes due to Pennsylvania to the amount of $2,068.43 and accounts payable under the administration of Receiver J. G. Splane to the amount of $1,036.25. The costs before the master amounted to $385.05 and the expense of sale by trustee to $833.80. Of the $50,000 original for distribution there remains $40,493.33 for distribution. On each $1,000 bond there will be distributed $202.47 and on each $500 bond $101.23.

Coquette Condemned.

The life of a coquette is very like that of a drunkard or an opium eater and its end is the same—the total extinction of intellect, of cheerfulness, of generous feeling and of self-respect. —Mrs. Jameson.

Shakespeare on the Road.

Hamlet had just been hit by a cold-storage egg. Whereupon he turned gravely to his audience. "How truly spoke the good Marcellus!" quoth he. "Something is rotten in the state of Denmark!"

Increasing Rapidly.

"When I first took hold of this place," said the new proprietor of the grocery store on the corner, "it was doing absolutely nothing, and now the business has doubled."

Baldness and Intellect.

According to the statement of a professor in a German university the percentage of baldness among intellectual men is only two for musical men and sixteen for writers and others.

At the Movies.

He (his arm around her)—"What a dainty wrist you have, honey!" She—"That isn't my wrist, dearie! That's the ankle of the man beside me!"—Puck.

Her Peculiar Request.

Phoebe, three years old, wanted her mamma in church to fan her, but could not think how to express it, so she said, "Mamma, wind me."

Simple.

Gabe—"Why do they say that the ghost walks on pay-day?" Steve—"Because that's the day our spirits rise." —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Tea Known in England Since 1615.

The earliest mention of tea drinking in England occurs in a leter from Mr. Wickham from Japan, dated June 27, 1615. In 1656 the English began to drink tea in society circles, the supply being imported from Java at the cost of $30 to $50 a pound. It is quite needless to say that the common people did not drink much tea during those days.

Unappreciated Ardor.

"Darling!" he cried, passionately, throwing himself upon his knees before her and rolling up his eyes toward the chandelier, "darling, can you not see, can you not guess that I love you?" "Well," she replied, coolly, gazing at the disheveled youth on the rug, "I'd hate to think that this was just your natural way of behaving in company."

Ancient Irish "Keen."

The most interesting as well as the oldest and still most cherished customs are those that have gathered round deaths and funerals. The caoine or "keen," so often mentioned by Irish writers, is now to be met with only in the west, where the soft plaintive voices seem to lend themselves peculiarly to it.
